

Page 1

1

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT

SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

4 Lead Case No. 09-50026 (REG), Adv. Case No. 1-12-09802 (REG)

6 | In the Matter of:

7 GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION

8 | Debtors.

10 MOTORS LIQUIDATION COMPANY GUC TRUST

11 Plaintiffs,

12 v.

13 APPALOOSA INVESTMENT LIMITED

14 Defendants.

16 | United States Bank

17 | One Bowling Green

18

20 May 15, 2012

21 | Page

22

23 BEFORE:

24 HON. ROBERT E. GEBBER

25 U.S. BANKRUPTCY JUDGE

Page 2

1

2 HEARING re Status Conference Regarding the Contested Matter Of 3 The Motors Liquidation GUC Trustees First Amended Objection To 4 Claims Filed by Green Hunt Wedlake, Inc. And Noteholders of 5 General Motors Nova Scotia Finance Company And Motion for Other
6 Relief [Docket No. 7859] And Adversary Proceeding No. 12-09802

7

8 Adv. 1-12-09082

9 HEARING re Status Conference

10

11 HEARING re Defendant Aurelius Investment, LLC's Motion to 12 Dismiss GUC Trust's Complaint For Failure To State A Claim Upon
13 Which Relief May Be Granted

14

15 HEARING re Motion of Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust for 16 Limited Modification of the Automatic Stay and the Plan
17 Injunction as to Action Filed by Burton Taft, Administrator of 18 the Estates of Brian Taft

19

20 HEARING re Motion of Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust for 21 Limited Modifications of the Automatic Stay and the Plan
22 Injunction as to the Action Filed by Sheriff Rafik Kodsy

23

24

25

Page 3

1

2 HEARING re Motion of Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust for
3 Entry of an Order Fixing the Amount of and Allowing Claim No.
4 11385 Filed by Dana H. Fox for Distribution Purposes and 5 Granting Related Relief

6

7 HEARING re Eighty-Third Omnibus Objection to Claims (Welfare
8 Benefit Claims of Retired and Former Salaried and Executive
9 Employees)

10

11 HEARING re Debtors' 103rd Omnibus Objection to Claims (Welfare
12 Benefit Claims of Retired and Former Salaried and Executive
13 Employees)

14

15 HEARING re Debtors 114th Omnibus Objection to Claims (Welfare
16 Benefit Claims of Retired and Former Salaried and Executive
17 Employees)

18

19 HEARING re Debtors' 169th Omnibus Objection to Claims (Welfare
20 Benefit Claims of Retired and Former Salaried and Executive
21 Employees)

22

23 HEARING re Motion for Objection to Claim (s) Number 28820,
24 filed by Atul Shah

25

Page 4

1

2 HEARING re Motion for Objection to Claims(s) Number 18839 and
3 70846 filed by Juanita Pickett

4

5 HEARING re Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust's Objection to 6 Claim No. 4171 filed by James O. Bryant, Jr.

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24 Transcribed by: Sheila Orms

25

Page 5

1       A P P E A R A N C E S :

2       WEIL, GOTSHAL & MANGES LLP

3               Attorneys for Debtor

4               767 Fifth Avenue

5               New York, NY 10153

6

7       BY:      DAVID N. GRIFFITHS, ESQ.

8               IRWIN H. WARREN, ESQ. (TELEPHONICALLY)

9

10      DICKSTEIN SHAPIRO LLP

11               Attorneys for GUC Trust

12               1633 Broadway

13               New York, NY 10019

14

15       BY:      STEFANIE BIRBROWER GREER, ESQ.

16

17      DICKSTEIN SHAPIRO LLP

18               Attorneys for (Unknown)

19               1825 Eye Street NW

20               Washington, DC 20006

21

22       BY:      DEBORAH P. KELLY, ESQ.

23

24

25

Page 6

1 PAUL HASTINGS LLP

2 Attorneys for Appaloosa Investment

3 75 East 55th Street

4 New York, NY 10022

5

6 BY: MARLA DOUVAS, ESQ. (TELEPHONICALLY)

7

8 MAGUIRE LAW FIRM

9 Attorneys for Diane Van Winkle

10 607 Briarwood Drive

11 Suite 1

12 Myrtle Beach, SC 29572

13

14 BY: SYDNEY LYNN, ESQ. (TELEPHONICALLY)

15

16 ROTH & DEMPSEY, PC

17 Attorneys for Burton Taft

18 436 Jefferson Avenue

19 Scranton, PA 18510

20

21 BY: MICHAEL G. GALLACHER, ESQ. (TELEPHONICALLY)

22

23

24

25

Page 7

1 ALSO APPEARING:

2

3 FRANK J. CELSNEK, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

4 TIMOTHY L. FITZPATRICK, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

5 THOMAS JANUSKINSKI, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

6 LEIAH M. JOHNSON-GREEN, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

7 GEORGE R. LEEDOM, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

8 JUANITA PICKETT, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

9 DAVID I. SCOTT, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

10 DAVIE E. TURNER, IN PRO PER/PRO SE (TELEPHONICALLY)

11 MICHAEL J. WALSH, BANK OF AMERICA (TELEPHONICALLY)

12 SHAUN WANG, CREDIT SUISSE (TELEPHONICALLY)

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

Page 8

1 P R O C E E D I N G S

2 THE COURT: Okay. We're here on General Motors,
3 Motor Liquidation Company.

4 I want to apologize to the people in the courtroom
5 and on the phone for making you wait since the time of our 9:45
6 original calendar. Trust me, we have not been on the golf
7 course. We've been in other matters in GM starting at about 8 9:00 a.m. We've been going on for two hours, and now we're 9 getting to this stuff. This is a big case with many competing
10 demands.

11 With that said, let's get to work. Mr. Griffiths.

12 MR. GRIFFITHS: Good morning, Your Honor. David 13 Griffiths for the debtors, the post-effective debtors and the 14 Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust.

15 Your Honor, I will just -- I will briefly take you
16 through the calendar. This morning we have two lift stay
17 motions. I believe counsel for Burton Taft is attending by 18 court call. We have one uncontested motion to fix and allow a
19 claim for Mr. Fox, and then a number of employee matters.

20 Your Honor, thinking back to the last hearing, it was 21 your preference to hear from the plaintiffs first and for the 22 lift stay motions. So if Your Honor prefers, I'm happy to rest
23 on our pleadings and allow the claimants to argue lift stays.

24 THE COURT: All right. Now, you're starting with the 25 Taft matter if I'm not mistaken.

Page 9

1 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, please, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Now, we have a little bit of a
3 precedent in this case on that, folks. We tried to resolve
4 these matters by a DR, and when we fail, they have to be
5 liquidated somewhere. And my practice has been to allow them
6 to go back to the local courts to come up with a number.

7 Let me hear from counsel for Taft.

8 MR. GALLACHER: Yes. Good morning, Your Honor. This
9 is attorney Mike Gallacher. How are you?

10 THE COURT: Very well, thank you.

11 MR. GALLACHER: Good.

12 THE COURT: I see you, Mr. Gallacher. Go ahead
13 please.

14 MR. GALLACHER: Yeah. My concern, Your Honor, is not 15 with the lifting of the stay. I agree that a lifting of the 16 stay is appropriate. This matter does need to have a number
17 assigned to it so it can proceed through the bankruptcy. My 18 objection is the lifting of the stay and allowing the matter to 19 proceed against General Motors Corporation, which is the entity
20 that it was filed against, in the Middle District of 21 Pennsylvania.

22 My understanding is through the bankruptcy
23 proceedings, that entity no longer exists. And my concern is 24 that when we get back to the judge in the Middle District of 25 Pennsylvania and I go to seek some discovery documents or want

Page 10

1 to depose a witness for the discovery document that the
2 response I'm going to get from GM, which has a history of being
3 very difficult in discovery matters, is going to be that this
4 entity no longer exists, we don't have to provide you anything.
5 And the judge will have no sanction ability against an entity
6 which no longer exists. If General Motors Corporation, the 7 party that we're pursuing the action against, doesn't exist,
8 what can the middle district judge do to ensure its compliance
9 with any type of discovery issues or orders that the court may 10 issue?

11 THE COURT: Well --

12 MR. GALLACHER: And that's my concern.

13 THE COURT: -- possibly is, Mr. Gallacher, because 30
14 or 40 years ago when I was a young litigation associate, New 15 York CPLR for litigation, that's the Civil Practice Law and 16 Rules for litigation in New York State, used to have much more
17 restrictive ability to get documents from third parties. But 18 New York changed its law decades ago. And usually, third-party
19 discovery is just as easy to get as discovery from parties.

20 Is there something about Pennsylvania law that gives 21 you a particular problem in this regard or --

22 MR. GALLACHER: There's nothing about Pennsylvania
23 law in particular. Again, my concern is when I ask the 24 defendant or even let's say it's a request for admission, if I
25 say to the defendant I want you to admit that you manufactured

Page 11

1       this vehicle -- my case involves a product defect where a car
2       had exploded and killed a young man -- and if I say I want a
3       request for admission that General Motors Corporation
4       manufactured this vehicle, and the response that I get back is 5       we're no longer an entity, we can neither admit nor deny, what
6       ability does the district court judge have to force General
7       Motors Corporation, which no longer exists, to do something?

8                 All that we're looking for, Judge, is some type of a 9       safeguard or order with the bankruptcy court, which still does 10      have jurisdiction on this matter, that the trust is going to be 11      responsible for ultimately maybe providing documents, providing 12      answers and/or, you know, I think satisfying the judgment will 13      be taken care more through the bankruptcy if there is a 14      judgment here. But our concern is the discovery process, and 15      we don't want the bankruptcy court just to let General Motors
16      Corporation off the hook altogether just simply because it
17      doesn't any -- no longer exist due to the bankruptcy
18      proceedings.

19                 THE COURT: I need a little more help from you on 20      this, Mr. Gallacher, because you will be able to get documents.
21      You'll be able to get depositions from new GM personnel. And 22      if I recall the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, and I think
23      at this point I do, the only rules that are unique to parties
24      are requests for admissions and interrogatories, two types of 25      discovery mechanisms that I have had a distaste for for 42

Page 12

1 years. Are we talking about anything else?

2 MR. GALLACHER: I believe that would be it. I mean,
3 I certainly can't anticipate everything that's coming up, but
4 the two main ones would certainly be -- well, three main ones
5 would be requests for production of documents, which you're 6 right, we may be able to get from third party. But 7 interrogatories and requests for admissions would be exclusive
8 to the defendant to the parties involved in litigation.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Let me hear --

10 MR. GALLACHER: And they are very useful tools in 11 proceeding with discovery. I mean, we're going to have a very 12 difficult time. For example, let's say we wanted to find out
13 who was involved in the design of this vehicle and we ask
14 General Motors Corporation. Their response can be we're not an 15 entity, we don't have to tell you. Well, you know, where am I
16 going to go with discovery at that point?

17 THE COURT: I would have thought the answer would be 18 new GM.

19 MR. GALLACHER: Well, I think that would create a lot
20 of difficulty because new GM may not know the answer to that.
21 I'm not sure that they would.

22 THE COURT: Well, if there is a live human being in 23 either place, certainly this Court wouldn't prevent you from 24 finding that live human being wherever he or she might be.

25 MR. GALLACHER: Well, I would agree with you, but how

Page 13

1 am I even going to get the names of those individuals if, like
2 I said, requests for admission, if I wanted to request that Joe
3 Smith is the individual who designed this vehicle.

4 THE COURT: All right. I think I understand the 5 issue.

6 Mr. Griffiths, let me hear from you please.

7 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor.

8 Counsel to the claimant would have been in no
9 different position after GM's bankruptcy even prior to the 10 liquidation of Motors Liquidation Company. The books and 11 records on this on the execution of the master purchase
12 agreement, books and records of General Motors Corporation or 13 old GM were transferred to new GM. We're in no better position
14 to obtain those books and records than counsel to the claimant.
15 And therefore, as Your Honor has rightly pointed out, counsel
16 to the claimant can simply pursue third-party discovery.

17 In terms of -- I refute counsel to the claimant's
18 view that the GUC Trust will be difficult in its approach to 19 litigation. The GUC Trust is composed of restructuring
20 professionals who have just one objective, which is to allow 21 this claim -- or allow the stay to be lifted, allow their claim
22 to be liquidated, and therefore to give the claimant and 23 allowed claim. It should be quite straightforward.

24 We think this sets a bad precedent in the case. We 25 don't think it's necessary, and we oppose the request of the

Page 14

1 claimant.

2 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Gallacher, anything
3 further?

4 MR. GALLACHER: Nothing beyond what I've said
5 already, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: All right. The motion for relief from 7 the stay is granted and granted unconditionally. But the 8 legislative history of this order is that if, Mr. Gallacher,
9 you need to come back before me as the Court that will 10 ultimately get the result of whatever litigation result is 11 achieved in Pennsylvania, it's without prejudice to your rights
12 for me to -- for you to ask me to be helpful if it turns out to 13 be the case.

14 MR. GALLACHER: Am I understanding Your Honor --

15 THE COURT: Forgive me. I need to announce my 16 ruling. And then as long as it's not by way of re-argument,
17 I'll allow you to ask for clarification.

18 MR. GALLACHER: Okay. Sure.

19 THE COURT: But forgive me because I lost my train of 20 thought.

21 MR. GALLACHER: I'm sorry.

22 THE COURT: The underlying fact cannot be changed
23 that since approximately mid-July of 2009 old GM, now called 24 Motors Liquidation Company, has not had many if not most of the 25 documents that might be relevant to this controversy. This

Page 15

1 Court is not in any way, shape or form interfering with the 2 plaintiff's side right to get documents, depositions or 3 anything else from either old GM or new GM. And for the 4 avoidance of doubt, the transferee court, if I can use the 5 expression for that court that's going to liquidate the claim
6 and help me on this, is free to manage the case as it sees fit
7 and to run it pretty much like any litigation before it.

8 But there are practical problems associated with the 9 transfer of documents, which living in the real world we judges
10 have to address. The fact is that the relevant information is 11 now likely to be largely if not entirely in the hands of a
12 third party, and I am perfectly okay with going after the third
13 party for the discovery. If and to the extent, which may be 14 modest, old GM has any information, old GM will be subject to 15 discovery on that, but I can't make old GM produce anything it
16 doesn't have. I am not a sorcerer.

17 Now, that may mean as a practical matter that just as 18 in every case certain methods of discovery have more utility
19 than others that the plaintiff's side will have to go through 20 the old-fashioned traditional means of document discovery and 21 depositions. And that if it asks old GM to answer
22 interrogatories, old GM may be able to answer or may have to 23 say we don't know. And I can't do much about that.

24 I will say that if there is a suggestion that old GM
25 has acted in bad faith in dealing with this -- and I've got to

Page 16

1 say, Mr. Gallacher, that in the three years or so that I've had
2 the GM case on my watch I haven't seen any instances of that
3 yet, but I guess it's possible -- I'll let you come back to me
4 for what amounts to assistance to the Pennsylvania court if
5 there is something useful to be accomplished in that regard.
6 But I do have to tell you that I have difficulty seeing how I
7 could require old GM to produce something that doesn't exist.

8 Now, you wanted to ask a clarification, although it's 9 possible that what I said in addition made that question go
10 away?

11 MR. GALLACHER: I think what you said in addition.
12 My question was just going to be would I have the opportunity
13 to come back to you in the event that the old GM, General
14 Motors Corporation, refused to answer certain discovery
15 interrogatories or requests for admissions. And I think you
16 said that that would be a door that is still open to me if I'm 17 understanding that correctly.

18 THE COURT: I am not saying never. I do have some 19 expectation that parties are going to resolve things by 20 discussion before I ever see these issues. And I'm telling --

21 MR. GALLACHER: That would be my preference as well.

22 THE COURT: And I'm telling you now I'm not going to 23 ask old GM to do the impossible. But if you're saying that 24 this is without prejudice, never darken -- this is with 25 prejudice, never darken my door again, I'm not telling you

Page 17

1 that.

2 MR. GALLACHER: Okay.

3 THE COURT: All righty.

4 MR. GALLACHER: Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Mr. Griffiths, am I right that as a
6 matter of course you guys simply routinely order transcripts of 7 hearings like this one?

8 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Don't pay for expedited treatment, but 10 when you get the copy share with Mr. Gallacher a copy of the 11 transcript that's ultimately forthcoming so that he has a
12 papered legislative history of the ruling. But your order can 13 and should be a clean one simply saying your request for relief
14 from the stay is granted.

15 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor. And I can get the 16 transcript to Mr. Gallacher by e-mail very quickly.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Super.

18 Mr. Gallacher, you may stay on the phone or leave as 19 you prefer.

20 MR. GALLACHER: I will probably bow out at this
21 point, but thank you very much for your time, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Have a good day.

23 MR. GALLACHER: Thanks. Bye-bye.

24 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 The next item on the calendar is item number three.

Page 18

1 It's another lift stay motion to pursue an action filed by 2 Sheriff Rafik Kodsy.

3 THE COURT: Yes, I remember this matter.

4 Mr. Kodsy, are you on the phone?

5 Mr. Gallacher (sic), I'm familiar with Mr. Kodsy's
6 efforts to try to turn an unsecured claim into a secured claim
7 and my ruling on that and the ruling of the district court. Is 8 this the one where we have a statute of limitations issue or is 9 it a different one?

10 MR. GRIFFITHS: I know we have a statute of 11 limitations issue. I think we can -- I think we are simply 12 happy to lift the stay and allow the action to proceed in -- I
13 think it's in a court in Florida.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Kodsy, I'm going to ask again, 15 are you on the line?

16 No. Well, consistent with our past practice, Mr.
17 Griffiths, if these claims need to be liquidated, they're going 18 to be liquidated in their local courts. Your motion is 19 granted. Submit an order in accordance with that. I would 20 have told you to settle it if he had appeared on the phone, but 21 under the circumstances, you can merely submit it.

22 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor.

23 The next item on the calendar is item number four,
24 which is to fix and allow a claim filed by Dana Fox. Your 25 Honor, I'll be brief. I simply wanted to point out this is a

Page 19

1 claim filed by a claimant who has filed numerous pleadings in
2 this court and in the district and appeals court. We were 3 successful in having what appeared to be an appeal to the 4 district court overruled. The district court looked at the 5 procedural history of the claims that Mr. Fox had filed and 6 found that the bankruptcy court had acted entirely
7 appropriately with respect to those claims.

8 Mr. Fox has since filed documents with the Second
9 Circuit Court of Appeals. The GUC Trust doesn't believe that 10 these documents amount to an appeal of the district court
11 order. The documents filed with the Second Circuit Court of 12 Appeals appear to note that the claimant wants ADR, that there
13 has been obstruction of justice by the GUC Trust and by this 14 Court. The claimant would like a quality control check of the 15 whole process. He'd like to appeal the entire bankruptcy
16 process and notes that GM is not bankrupt and that these 17 proceedings are illegal.

18 Your Honor, we're happy to rest on our pleadings if 19 Your Honor feels that he has jurisdiction to rule on the merits
20 of the claim.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Fox, are you on the phone?

22 OPERATOR: No, Your Honor, we do not have an 23 appearance on that matter.

24 THE COURT: All right. Am I correct that this is the 25 one where I had knocked out a duplicative claim, that you folks

Page 20

1 had proposed to simply allow the number one claim -- what was
2 it, in the amount of $19,000?

3 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor. So the procedural
4 history was that Mr. Fox had sent in a letter requesting to 5 lift the stay at the start of the bankruptcy process. That was 6 -- that -- Your Honor ordered that that be treated as a proof
7 of claim. Mr. Fox then filed a proof of claim for $19,500,
8 which relates to something. We can't quite work out what.
9 It's something to do with an Aurora automobile.

10 And when we attempted to simply allow the claim, Mr.
11 Fox then requested an additional sum to reflect his litigation
12 time, which having researched it we couldn't allow. And then 13 when we tried to settle the claim, we were unsuccessful in 14 doing so, and our only course of action was to fix and allow 15 the claim in this Court.

16 THE COURT: My tentative subject to your rights to be 17 heard, Mr. Griffiths, is to reduce and allow the claim to the 18 $19,000 that you had proposed and to then authorize the estate
19 to give Mr. Fox the plan consideration appropriate for a claim
20 of that $19,000 size. Do you think -- do you want to be heard
21 on that instinct?

22 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, as a general unsecured
23 claim?

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor, that's entirely

Page 21

1 appropriate. It's what we're seeking.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Submit an order in accordance with 3 the foregoing.

4 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. GRIFFITHS: Before proceeding to the employee
7 matters, just a quick note that we have an uncontested matter,
8 which is item number one under the uncontested matter heading.
9 That's the Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust's objection to 10 claim number 4171 filed by James O. Bryant, Junior, which is a 11 worker's compensation claim. The matter is uncontested, and we 12 request that we may be able to submit an order.

13 THE COURT: Okay. This is the one where the claimant
14 will get it from New Jersey if I'm not mistaken.

15 MR. GRIFFITHS: Correct, Your Honor, where a bond has 16 been posted.

17 THE COURT: Okay. The name of that claimant again,
18 Mr. Griffiths?

19 MR. GRIFFITHS: Is Mr. James O. Bryant, B-R-Y-A-N-T, 20 Junior.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Bryant, are you on the phone?

22 OPERATOR: No, Your Honor, we do not have anybody by 23 that name.

24 THE COURT: Okay. If I understood you right, Mr.
25 Griffiths, the claimant will get whatever he is entitled to

Page 22

1 from New Jersey; am I right?

2 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor, that's what the 3 pleadings note.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Then I am not sure exactly what I
5 would be doing other than disallowing the claim from here
6 without prejudice to his rights to proceed against the state of 7 New Jersey's worker's comp bureau.

8 MR. GRIFFITHS: Correct, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: I'm granting that relief. I would simply 10 ask that you as a favor to me say in plain English in addition 11 to the sentence that says that the claim is disallowed in 12 substance, this ruling does not in any way interfere with the 13 claimant's rights to proceed to recover from New Jersey
14 worker's comp bureau or whatever the technical words should be.

15 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Just so that a layman understands
17 what we're doing and what we're not doing.

18 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor. I'm happy to call
19 the claimant as well to explain it to him in plain English.

20 THE COURT: Well, I'd put -- you've volunteered to do
21 that a number of times over the history of this case. And 22 while I couldn't order you to do it, I can tell you that I
23 appreciate it when you offer.

24 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor. I'll certainly do
25 so.

Page 23

1 THE COURT: Thank you.

2 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, then turning to the 3 employee matters on the calendar, the debtors' 83rd omnibus
4 objection to claims with respect to David Turner is adjourned
5 to the next hearing. Mr. Turner requested that I inform the 6 Court that he is currently undertaking treatment for pancreatic
7 cancer and apologizes for not being able to attend this
8 hearing.

9 The following claimants I believe are on the phone
10 with respect to item number six, which is the debtors' 103rd
11 omnibus objection to claims. It's Messrs. Celsnek and Mr.
12 Leedom. Your Honor, given the time, I'm happy to rest on the 13 pleadings if Your Honor would like to hear from the claimants.
14 And I would simply request that we incorporate Your Honor's
15 prior rulings on these matters into the record of the hearing.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Celsnek, are you on the phone,
17 sir?

18 OPERATOR: There is no attorney by that name, Your 19 Honor.

20 THE COURT: Yes. I don't see -- no, I see him on the 21 phone log as having been expected. Did he not pick up or did
22 he lose patience?

23 Mr. Frank J. Celsnek, are you on, sir?

24 OPERATOR: I never show him checked in, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Oh, he never checked in?

Page 24

1                   MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, if I may, the -- my log
2                   -- we called off the claimants prior to the hearing to check if 3                   they would like to attend to make sure that there are no mix-
4                   ups. Mr. Celsnek wasn't sure if he wanted to attend but would 5                   like a transcript of the hearing sent to him by e-mail.

6                   THE COURT: Oh, okay. Okay. Thank you.

7                   The next is George Leedom.

8                   MR. LEEDOM: Yes, Your Honor. I'm on the phone.

9                   THE COURT: Okay. Would you like to be heard, Mr.
10                  Leedom? Do you understand the issues that are before me today?

11                  MR. LEEDOM: Basically, yes, I do.

12                  THE COURT: Okay. I'll hear your argument.

13                  MR. LEEDOM: Well, really it goes to the issue of the 14                  medical health and care. And basically, you know, it stands as 15                  I had originally submitted in addition to the life insurance.
16                  And I was eventually issued what they told me during retirement
17                  the ultimate amount on the insurance would be for the lifetime
18                  of the retiree reduction according to policy guidelines. And I
19                  presume that was referring to the life insurance policy.

20                  And the health care, I still think that we're
21                  entitled to that, although they have provided $300 a month,
22                  which currently does not cover the health care but at least 23                  provides some help in that regard. I just felt that the 24                  commitment was there after almost 41 years with the -- with GM.
25                  And when it was presented during the -- most of the meetings

Page 25

1 that I attended always reinforced the fact that the life
2 insurance and the health care would be there.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Leedom, GM has stated that the letter
4 you got from the National Retiree Servicing Center said in 5 bold, capitalized print, "All information provided in this
6 letter is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable
7 group policies or program." And GM has also advised me that 8 under the life insurance program, and I think this is true of 9 medical benefits as well, those policies said that they had the 10 ability to change them at any time. Did you get any document
11 in writing that said anything different?

12 MR. LEEDOM: Well, the only document that I submitted
13 was the two letters that I had relative from the National 14 Benefit Center. They outline the basic group life insurance
15 and then the ultimate amount. And then only with that was that 16 letter. But no, other than that I didn't have anything.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Do you have any further points you
18 would like to make?

19 MR. LEEDOM: Well, Your Honor, I can't think of any 20 at the moment. I guess I -- I'm not sure whether a ruling will 21 come today or later or whether whichever it falls, whether it's 22 appealable or not. But I guess you could advise me of that. I
23 would appreciate that very much.

24 THE COURT: Of course. But first, I want to give Mr.
25 Griffiths the chance to respond and you a chance to reply.

Page 26

1 MR. LEEDOM: Thank you.

2 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, I have no further
3 comments other to then to express the GUC Trust's regret at the 4 situation. But it can't be helped given the current financial 5 situation of the debtors, who are liquidated and the remains of 6 the estate being distributed to creditors.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further, Mr. Leedom?

8 MR. LEEDOM: No, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to issue rulings on all
10 of the people who are similarly situated together. Who is the 11 next one who is in the same boat, Mr. Griffiths?

12 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, the following claimants
13 would be claimants under the debtors' 114th omnibus objection.
14 I believe that would be Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Scott. My 15 records show that --

16 THE COURT: Oh, yes.

17 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes.

18 THE COURT: That's Timothy Fitzpatrick.

19 Mr. Fitzpatrick, are you on the phone?

20 MR. FITZPATRICK: Yes, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Would you like to make an argument to me?

22 MR. FITZPATRICK: Yes, if I might.

23 THE COURT: Go ahead, please.

24 MR. FITZPATRICK: The opposition's reply to my claim
25 lists 42 points as to why it should be expunged.

Page 27

1 Unfortunately, I don't have the legal expertise to respond to
2 each one individually, but I would like to make reference to a
3 few of them in my response.

4 So with regard to my claim for life insurance, reply
5 number 26 states upon the reduction of the life insurance, I
6 was fully eligible to continue to be covered at the same level
7 as prior to the reduction at their cost. And my response to 8 this reply number 26 is this is not correct. It was at my cost
9 and on my head not at a bargain rate.

10 With regard to reply number 28, that states the 11 letters were not approved by the board of directors of GM and 12 they were not authorized amendments of the debtors' life
13 insurance plan, they were merely a communication. My response
14 to this reply number 28 is this cannot be correct. It's 15 inconceivable to me that General Motors would send out letters
16 that are not approved and not authorized.

17 But more to the crux of the matter, reply number nine
18 states that I bear the burden of showing that the debtors
19 intended to vest welfare benefits. And reply number 30 states
20 that I must identify specific written language that is 21 reasonably susceptible to interpretation as a promise. And 22 reply number 38 states that I do -- that I did not provide any 23 explanation as to why the letter should be read as ensuring the 24 vesting of a benefit.

25 My response to those three replies, numbers nine, 30

Page 28

1 and 38, are as follows. It is my contention that the letter I
2 was sent on November the 15th, 1999, did convey an intention to 3 vest benefits and that it was reasonably susceptible to 4 interpretation as soon as a promise. The letter was received
5 two weeks after retirement. However, the amount of coverage
6 was common knowledge among employees well before retirement
7 since the formula for calculation was also common knowledge.
8 So it would be normally -- you would normally enter into the 9 deliberations of an employee contemplating retirement.

10 THE COURT: What did it say about a promise not to 11 change the benefits?

12 MR. FITZPATRICK: Well, I was getting to that today,
13 Your Honor. And basically, the receipt of that letter was very 14 reassuring to me because the language was so strong. The 15 letter said you are eligible for continuing life insurance. My 16 interpretation of that is oh, good, I'm covered. The letter
17 said the amount is fully reduced. My interpretation of that is 18 oh, good, the amount will never get smaller. The letter said
19 the ultimate amount will remain for the rest of your life. My 20 interpretation of that is oh, good, no worries. The letter said
21 said this is provided by General Motors at no cost to you. My 22 interpretation was good, free and clear. The letter said keep 23 this with your other valuable papers. And my interpretation of 24 that is good, this letter is valuable, and I'm going to keep it
25 safe.

Page 29

1           In other words, I read that letter to mean that this
2       is etched in stone, take it to the bank. This is GM's promise
3       to me. It is vested, fixed, settled and absolute. I believe
4       that that letter different reference then a separate
5       entitlement to the employee benefit plan since it marked the 6       transition from employee status to retiree status and described 7       the associated change in the life insurance benefit.

8           But wait, okay, there was a little glitch, a one-
9       liner, which said this is not a guarantee of the coverage
10      amount. My interpretation of that was to dismiss it as 11      carrying little or no weight since 90 percent of the letter is 12      in direct contradiction to it and therefore outweighs it. And 13      furthermore, it must be insignificant since many other letters
14      issued to other GM retirees did not contain that one-liner.

15           So that's my --

16           THE COURT: Can you read back that one-liner please, 17      this is not a guarantee of?

18           MR. FITZPATRICK: This is not a guarantee of the 19      coverage amount.

20           THE COURT: Okay. Continue please.

21           MR. FITZPATRICK: Basically, Your Honor, that was it
22      with regard to the life insurance. I just did want to make one 23      further argument with regard to the continuing medical 24      coverage, which as you know was knocked on the head in January
25      of 2010. I went through the actuarial tables and the GMRA

Page 30

1 recommended procedure for figuring out what that amount of the
2 loss was. But as the previous gentleman mentioned, we were
3 given $3,600 a year to try and compensate for that. So my
4 claim originally for the medical coverage was around 146,000 I
5 think. That should be reduced by 60,000.

6 So that was all I had to say, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

8 Mr. Griffiths, response?

9 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 Very briefly, if Your Honor would like to see a copy
11 of the letter, it's at Appendix I believe 3 to the reply. Let 12 me just get it so that Your Honor has it front of him. Exhibit
13 1 -- and actually, it's the end of Exhibit 2 not -- if you go
14 to Exhibit 3 and then it's the page before it.

15 Your Honor, we've dealt with letters similar to this 16 at the January 18th hearing and included a copy of the 17 transcript from the hearing. I believe in sum that Mr.
18 Fitzpatrick is arguing that Devlin and Empire Blue Cross and 19 Blue Shield, which is at 274 F.3d at 76. The fact of the 20 matter is that General Motors didn't promise the vesting of 21 life insurance benefits to induce retirements. So since Mr.
22 Fitzpatrick had already retired, there were no further services
23 for him to perform, which could be reasonably interpreted as a
24 promise to affect some sort of future performance of services.

25 Your Honor, the letter itself, while we've already

Page 31

1 conceded on the record that it is unclear, it is unfortunate it
2 was sent out with such language, Mr. Fitzpatrick's letter
3 refers specifically to participation in the life and disability
4 benefits program, which is the welfare benefits program that 5 the life insurance is provided under. It's not reasonable for 6 Mr. Fitzpatrick to take this letter in isolation and determine
7 that this letter constitutes a separate promise that can be
8 read separate and apart from the welfare benefits program,
9 which specifically provides for the life insurance program and 10 which by its own terms allows the coverage to be amended or 11 reduced.

12 It should further be noted that Mr. Fitzpatrick's
13 life insurance benefits were not terminated; they were merely 14 reduced to the amount of $10,000. And while, you know, I
15 personally am very sorry that that is, of course, hardship on 16 Mr. Fitzpatrick and all of the other claimants, this letter by 17 its own terms states that it's not a guarantee of coverage
18 amount. Therefore, although the formula by which benefits are 19 arrived at allows the ultimate amount to be reduced to in Mr.
20 Fitzpatrick's case $89,000, the fact that it states that it's 21 not a guarantee of coverage amount further reinforces the fact
22 that the debtors were able to reduce the life insurance benefit
23 as they had intended to do because they needed that flexibility 24 in case they ever entered or had financial distress, which is 25 in fact what happened.

Page 32

1           Your Honor, Mr. Fitzpatrick makes a number of other
2 arguments. I would just like to address an argument with 3 respect to additional insurance that was -- that Mr.
4 Fitzpatrick had purchased at his own cost. Mr. Fitzpatrick is 5 right in stating that the additional insurance that was offered
6 was at his own cost, and I believe that's what the objections
7 -- the reply says, although I apologize if that's unclear.

8           THE COURT: Wait, I lost you there.

9           MR. GRIFFITHS: So Mr. Fitzpatrick had argued that 10 there was an inconsistency in our reply, simply that when the 11 life insurance program, when it was reduced to $10,000, General
12 Motors or new GM put in place a program to allow employee or 13 former employees of the debtors to purchase additional life
14 insurance at their own cost, which would be at a reduced cost
15 to what was available on the market. That's in fact what 16 happened. It was Mr. Fitzpatrick's cost. That's what our 17 reply says.

18           And I would just like to apologize if there's -- if 19 it appears to be unclear. But I agree that insurance was 20 available to be purchased by former employees once the life
21 insurance was reduced.

22           THE COURT: At discounted rates but at their expense?

23           MR. GRIFFITHS: Correct, Your Honor.

24           THE COURT: Okay.

25           MR. GRIFFITHS: I don't believe I have any other

Page 33

1 arguments to make. I mean, Mr. Fitzpatrick hasn't in our view
2 satisfied his burden to show why the letter would constitute a
3 new promise separate and apart from the welfare benefit plan
4 under which the benefit was in fact provided.

5 It's quite clear that life insurance was provided
6 under the terms of a benefit plan. Mr. Fitzpatrick only 7 received the life insurance because he had a benefit under the 8 benefit plan. This letter simply noted the amount of coverage
9 he was currently receiving, and it can't be interpreted to --
10 as a new contract separate and apart from the welfare benefit
11 plan specifically because it refers to the welfare benefit plan
12 in the first place.

13 I don't believe I have any other arguments, Your 14 Honor.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Fitzpatrick, any reply?

16 MR. FITZPATRICK: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

18 I'll issue the ruling on your claim as part of the 19 others.

20 MR. FITZPATRICK: Okay.

21 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. Stand by please.

22 David Scott? Mr. Scott, I see you on the phone line
23 court call. Did Mr. Scott kind of register with you or get on 24 the line with you?

25 OPERATOR: No, Your Honor, we do not have him checked

Page 34

1 in.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

3 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, we registered Mr. Scott
4 for court call, but he said that he wouldn't make any
5 commitments. But he is aware of the hearing and received
6 notification from us.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

8 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, the next omnibus
9 objection that has to be dealt with is the 169th omnibus
10 objection to claims.

11 THE COURT: Pause, please. I also show Thomas L. and 12 Donna Kracker on this one. Are they no longer before me?

13 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, these are not -- no
14 replies have yet been submitted to the Kracker claims. The 15 format of the agenda may be somewhat confusing, but the GUC
16 Trust hasn't yet submitted a reply to the informal response of 17 Thomas and Donna L. Kracker.

18 THE COURT: Oh, I see. So --

19 MR. GRIFFITHS: That would precede a following
20 hearing.

21 THE COURT: So they're just being adjourned?

22 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Okay. All right. So what do we have 24 next?

25 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, under the 169th omnibus

Page 35

1 objection, we have Mr. Jarusinski, Ms. Johnson-Green and Mr.
2 Szynski.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yeah.

5 THE COURT: Thomas Jarusinski, are you on the phone,
6 sir?

7 MR. JARUSINSKI: Yes, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Would you like to be heard?

9 MR. JARUSINSKI: Yes. My argument is very similar to 10 Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Leedom in that besides regular salary
11 or compensation for my 37 years came in the form of health
12 benefits, life insurance and a defined pension. Funding for 13 these programs was in lieu of salary and were promised to 14 continue by the good word of GM as we were presented annually
15 with brochures explaining our total compensation package.

16 Now, these booklets provided data as to how many
17 years of service we had or beneficiary, our health care
18 coverage, our life insurance as well as what to expect when we 19 retired. Now, the $72,000 life insurance I was promised was 20 cut to 10,000 just as well as the other two gentlemen, and 21 responsibility for my health care premiums, what was assigned
22 to me was a $300 stipend to procure my own coverage, which by 23 no means was sufficient and becomes more insufficient as time
24 passes. Also, I was paying a co-pay of $14 a month for 25 extended care coverage for myself and spouse, which was bluntly

Page 36

1 terminated with no return of any money. Now this coverage
2 becomes financially unattainable to one who is already retired
3 at my age.

4 The then vice president of human resources, Katie
5 Barkley (ph), communicated annually that we should review our
6 package and plan our retirement with step nine in the 2005
7 roadmap to retirement stating sufficiently to relax and enjoy.
8 Now, I can't put a dollar amount on the anguish caused by the 9 undercutting of benefits, but I can assure you that financial 10 decisions my wife and I confront are always swayed by what 11 lurks around the next corner.

12 I implore the Court to consider my imposed struggles
13 and arrive at an equitable solution. And I thank you.

14 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Jarusinski. A question
15 for you, sir. Did GM give you any pieces of paper perhaps 16 unique to you that said in substance that notwithstanding 17 anything in our plan brochure that your benefits are vested and 18 won't be changed or won't be changed?

19 MR. JARUSINSKI: No. As I recall, it doesn't say
20 anything that they were -- you know, it would be vested. They 21 just have the amounts. And every year we got a booklet on 22 that.

23 THE COURT: I understand. Okay. Thank you.

24 Mr. Griffiths, do you wish to respond?

25 MR. GRIFFITHS: Briefly, Your Honor, simply to note

Page 37

1 at page eight of the reply, Mister -- or sorry, the claimant
2 refers to the summary plan descriptions that he received and
3 which noted the welfare benefits he was receiving. Although 4 it's not the type of thing that many employees would focus on
5 when reviewing summary plan descriptions, I personally reviewed
6 them and as, of course, in Sprague, for instance, and simply 7 note that, you know, the welfare benefit plans and the summary
8 plan descriptions contain specifically that General Motors
9 reserves the right to amend, change or terminate the plans and 10 programs. And in the summary plan description it says, you
11 know, those programs described in this booklet.

12 Your Honor, with respect to the extended care
13 coverage, that was a pay-as-you-go plan and once terminated
14 that no refund would be due. Coverage was provided, you know,
15 on the provision of payment by the employees. And once the 16 program was terminated, no payments were due and therefore no
17 refund was due. Their coverage was provided as and when it was 18 provided.

19 I believe that's the only arguments I have to respond
20 to.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further, Mr. Jarusinski?

22 MR. JARUSINSKI: No. That's all, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

24 MR. JARUSINSKI: Thank you.

25 THE COURT: Ms. Johnson-Green, is that who we're up

Page 38

1 to?

2 MR. GRIFFITHS: Yes, Your Honor. I believe we
3 received a voicemail saying she no longer wanted to 4 participate.

5 OPERATOR: She did not check in court call, Your
6 Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

8 Mr. Allen Szynski, is he on the line?

9 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, Mr. Szynski noted that he
10 would not attend the hearing but would like a transcript after 11 the hearing. And I will, of course, send him that.

12 THE COURT: Okay. To what extent do we have any 13 others who are in the same boat, Mr. Griffiths?

14 MR. GRIFFITHS: That concludes the matters on the 15 calendar.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Then I'm going to dictate a ruling
17 applicable to these folks, both those who submitted written
18 responses and those who orally argued. In one or two cases,
19 I'm going to say a little more for those who orally argued.

20 In these contested matters in the jointly 21 administered Chapter 11 cases of Motors Liquidation Company and 22 its affiliates, debtor General Motors or old GM, moves along
23 with the recently formed GUC Trust. GUC is three letters, G-U-
24 C. It stands for General Unsecured Creditors, which is a trust
25 formed for the benefit of old GM's creditors to disallow

Page 39

1 welfare benefit claims of retirees and former employees under
2 old GM's 83rd, 103rd, 114th and 169th omnibus objections.

3 The claims of the retirees and former employees
4 involve welfare benefits. Welfare benefits is a word of art
5 that describes benefits offered to employees at least 6 principally in the medical and life insurance areas. Those 7 welfare benefits are to be compared and contrasted with pension
8 benefits, which are not the subject of the motions that we have 9 before us here.

10 As I'll go on to explain in more detail, those claims
11 insofar as they're based on welfare benefits for medical 12 coverage or life insurance coverage must unfortunately be 13 disallowed. It gives me no pleasure to deny these claims. I
14 understand very well that denial of these claims results in 15 hardships on the claimants. In fact, it's very possible that 16 the changes in the life insurance and medical benefits have 17 created hardships on thousands or at least hundreds of 18 similarly situated employees. But I'm compelled to comply with 19 the law, and I'll be discussing that law momentarily.

20 First, however, my findings of fact. Many retirees
21 filed timely proofs of claim, including David Turner, Frank 22 Celsnek, George Leedom, Timothy Fitzpatrick, David Scott,
23 Thomas Jarusinski, Lelah Johnson-Green and Allen J. Szynski as 24 well. I don't see a need to take more time to describe their 25 individual claim numbers, but I'm authorizing GM to put their

Page 40

1 numbers into the order if it wishes to do so. That's eight
2 people who filed objections relating to claims that are before
3 me today, some, though not all of whom, orally argued during
4 today's hearing. I've considered both the written submissions
5 and the oral arguments in reaching these decisions.

6 Pursuant to procedures that were set up earlier in
7 GM's bankruptcy case, the debtors and/or the GUC Trust filed
8 omnibus claims objections to the claims of the eight people I
9 mentioned, among many, many others. An omnibus claims
10 objection is one that applies to many people or entities at the 11 same time, typically because they raise similar issues. The 12 debtors and then the GUC Trust filed those objections because 13 they have a fiduciary duty, that is, a duty as a matter of 14 trust to the remainder of the creditors of old GM's estate to 15 allow the claims that are deserving of allowance but, at the 16 same time, to object those -- to those that are not.

17 The omnibus objections before me presently were 18 directed at claims of retired or former employees of old GM,
19 those who generally contended that they had benefits when they 20 retired and that GM had no right to change them. Many of the 21 points raised by the claimants deal with rights that they may 22 have against new GM, but rights against new GM are not affected
23 one way or another by the objections we have today.

24 Now turning to my conclusions of law, including 25 certain mixed findings of fact and law, a proof of claim is

Page 41

1 prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim,
2 and the objector bears the initial burden of persuasion. See
3 In re Oneida Limited, 400 B.R. at page 389. That's a 2009
4 decision by Judge Gropper of this Court. What that means,
5 translating from the Latin, is that once a claimant, like each
6 of the eight people here, files a proof of claim, assuming at 7 least if the proof of claim has been satisfactory and complete,
8 which all here have been found to be satisfactory in the first 9 instance, it's good enough to get paid the amount set forth in 10 the claim unless there's an objection.

11 But once an objection is filed, the burden shifts to 12 the claimant if the objector produces evidence equal in force
13 to the claim that was previously filed, which, if believed,
14 would refute or contradict at least one of the allegations
15 that's essential to the claim's legal burden. When the burden
16 is shifted back to the claimant, the claimant must then prove 17 by a preponderance or in excess of the evidence that under 18 applicable law the claim should be allowed.

19 Now here, we have exactly that situation. Each of 20 the claims was prima facie okay. The debtors and the GUC Trust
21 then objected and met their burden, which meant that the 22 claimants once more had the burden. And then I decide what the 23 claimants are entitled to based on all of the evidence that's 24 before me.

25 Here, I'm required to find and I do find as a mixed

Page 42

1 question of fact and law that the claimants haven't met their
2 burden to show that their welfare benefits vested, which means,
3 putting it in plainer English, that the benefits couldn't be
4 taken away or changed, such as by allowing the insurance in a
5 lesser amount. In dealing with claims of for old GM former 6 employees, which were very, very similar to the claims that are 7 before me now, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
8 in a case called Sprague versus General Motors Corp, 133 F.3d
9 388, explained that to, quote, "vest benefits is to render them
10 forever unalterable because vesting of welfare plans -- plan
11 benefits is not required by law.

12 An employer's commitment to vest such benefits is not 13 to be inferred lightly. The intent to vest must be found in 14 the plan documents and must be stated in clear and express
15 language," end quote. Sprague versus General Motors Corp, 133
16 F.3d at page 400. That's a decision of the Sixth Circuit Court
17 of Appeals in 1998.

18 As the Sixth Circuit observed in the Sprague decision
19 at page 401, quote, "most of the summary plan descriptions
20 unambiguously reserved GM's right to amend or terminate the 21 plan," end quote. What that means is that while the claimants
22 may very well have had many rights to benefits, and I assume 23 for the purpose of this analysis that they did have rights as 24 they've all alleged them, GM had the right to modify those 25 benefits. Thus, although the benefits existed at one time,

Page 43

1       they could be changed, and indeed, GM changed them.

2                  Now, I'm intentionally describing documents and plan
3 descriptions that aren't always written in as clear language as 4 I'm using it now. And in essence, I'm translating them into 5 plainer English. I invite people if they want to, and of 6 course, I invite any appellate court reviewing my work, to read
7 the Sprague decision in greater detail and to read the plan
8 documents of each employee in greater detail.

9                  I also note that that's why I asked each one of the 10 people who was orally speaking whether he had any piece of 11 paper that made a different promise. If anybody did receive a 12 piece of paper that said in, you know, clear English that we 13 promise to vest your benefits or we say that notwithstanding 14 what's in your summary plan descriptions we promise not to 15 change yours, I would very much honor such a promise. But I
16 haven't any evidence of that here.

17                  Now, many claimants have talked about decisions that 18 they made based upon the documents they read at the time, and I
19 well understand the frustration that they've expressed in this 20 regard. But the rights that the claimants were getting were 21 described in the benefit plan documents, and those documents,
22 those same documents describe the rights that GM later availed
23 itself of to amend such plans. For example, a letter from the 24 National Retiree Servicing Center that was sent to Mr. Leedom
25 regarding his life insurance benefit stated in bold,

Page 44

1       capitalized print, quote, "All information provided in this
2       letter is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable
3       group policies or program," end quote.

4                  Similarly, in the back and forth that I had I believe
5       it was with Mr. Fitzpatrick, we discussed a sentence in his 6       letter, quote, "This is not a guarantee of the coverage
7       amount," end quote. Although he read other language from his 8       letter and said that he thought they were inconsistent, this 9       language was the most specific, and the remaining language did
10      not contain anything that could be read as a promise to either
11      provide the vesting that's required under the law or to say 12      that notwithstanding what the plan document said that the 13      promise in the letter would trump or overrule what the plan
14      document said.

15                 In sum, because the claimants' rights to welfare
16      benefits didn't vest and because those benefits were subject to 17      modification or termination, the claims of these eight folks
18      against old GM must be disallowed.

19                 Now, the GUC Trust is to settle an order in 20      accordance with this decision. Settling an order is a word of 21      art in the law that means proposing an order that I would then 22      sign, which before I sign it is sent out to people who have the 23      right to comment on whether they think that the order as 24      presented to me for signature is consistent with my ruling.
25      It's different than expressing a view that they agree with the

Page 45

1 ruling. I assume that all eight claimants would disagree with
2 my ruling. The sole purpose of the settling an order process
3 is to make sure that the written order conforms to the ruling
4 that I'm dictating now.

5 After that order is entered, each of the eight people
6 addressed by this ruling has the right to appeal the order, has
7 the right to seek appellate review. The time to appeal in a
8 bankruptcy case is much more limited than it is in other areas
9 of the law. In bankruptcy, you get just 14 days, but the time
10 to appeal runs from the time that the order is entered on the 11 docket of the Court not from the time that I'm delivering my 12 decision today.

13 Speaking to the people who are on the phone, and I
14 understand, of course, that people are covered by this ruling
15 who aren't on the phone and aren't in the courtroom, if you're 16 not objecting to the form of the order but you nevertheless
17 want to appeal it, you have that right as long as you file a 18 notice of appeal within the 14-day deadline after the order is 19 entered. And you should know even though the rules are 20 normally enforced by the district court, which is where the 21 appeals are heard and not before me, that there are other
22 requirements of law that must be complied with in order to get 23 the appeal heard.

24 So once again, I say that yes, you have the right to 25 appeal, and you have that right for 14 days but only 14 days.

Page 46

1 The time to appeal runs from the time the order is entered.

2 Folks, once more, I want to state that I understand
3 how hard the General Motors case has been on you and on other
4 former employees who are similarly situated. But once again, I
5 note that I'm required to comply with the law.

6 The folks who were on the phone with respect to their 7 particular matters are free to either stay on the phone or drop
8 off as they prefer.

9 Mr. Griffiths, further matters from you?

10 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor. Just a note, 11 consistent with Your Honor's prior rulings, we call each of the 12 claimants to let them know when the time to appeal runs from 13 once the order is entered.

14 THE COURT: Again, I appreciate that courtesy.

15 MR. GRIFFITHS: Your Honor, my co-counsel at 16 Dickstein and Shapiro have two short matters to deal with now.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. GRIFFITHS: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Ms. Greer? Oh, forgive me. You're 20 coming up?

21 MS. GREER: Yes.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MS. GREER: Your Honor, Stephanie Greer from 24 Dickstein and Shapiro on behalf of the GUC Trust.

25 Your Honor, I didn't have an opportunity to enter my

Page 47

1 appearance since we were downstairs. If you'll give me just a
2 chance to step up, I'll give her my card.

3 THE COURT: Sure.

4 MS. GREER: Okay. Your Honor, before we get started,
5 I wanted to just give you if it's okay, Your Honor, a quick
6 status update on the constructive notice claimants that we 7 dealt with a couple weeks ago.

8 I just want to let you know, Your Honor, that we've 9 certainly taken your advice to heart, done our best to resolve
10 those claims, and it looks like we actually have been able to 11 resolve those. We're waiting signed settlement agreements from 12 each of the claimants, but I'm hopeful that by the end of this 13 week, early next week I'll be able to send a letter to Your 14 Honor withdrawing those outstanding objections so we could all 15 move on.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

17 MS. GREER: You're welcome.

18 Does Your Honor have a preference as to whether we 19 proceed with Ms. Pickett's claim or Dr. Shah's claim first?

20 THE COURT: I don't have a preference. Would it
21 matter to either of the objectors or the folks whose objections
22 are subject? That's Dr. Shah and Ms. Pickett, right?

23 MS. GREER: Dr. Shah is in the courtroom, Your Honor,
24 and I understand Ms. Pickett is on the telephone.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Pickett, are you on the phone?

Page 48

1 MS. PICKETT: Yes, I am.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

3 Dr. Shah, you've been waiting patiently. Can I
4 impose on you to wait a moment more?

5 MR. SHAH: Can I come --

6 THE COURT: You can come to the main table, but I
7 want to hear Ms. Pickett first.

8 MS. GREER: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Stand by, Ms. Pickett.

10 MS. PICKETT: Okay.

11 THE COURT: Ms. Greer is going to talk about your 12 claim first.

13 MS. PICKETT: Okay. Thank you.

14 MS. GREER: Certainly, Your Honor. Ms. Pickett, as 15 you know, filed two claims, one unsecured, one administrative 16 claim. I know Your Honor has read the pleadings. In short, it
17 is the GUC Trust's position, I think it's clear under the law
18 no matter what law you apply, that the statute of limitations
19 for any of her claims expired well before the debtors'
20 bankruptcy case.

21 I'm happy to answer whatever questions Your Honor
22 has, or we can allow Ms. Pickett an opportunity to be heard,
23 and certainly reserve our right to reply.

24 THE COURT: Okay. This is a dispute, Ms. Pickett, 25 over whether your claim was timely, whether you brought it in

Page 49

1 time. When -- if I understand correctly, your claim took place
2 on June 24th, 2004 in Georgia. I think DeKalb County, Georgia,
3 is a suburb of Atlanta. You can correct me if I'm mistaken in 4 that regard.

5 MS. PICKETT: Yes.

6 THE COURT: That is about just a little less than 7 five years after the accident. And each of the states whose 8 law would apply -- I'm inclined to believe that the leading 9 contender would be Georgia but it ultimately doesn't matter --
10 says that that's too late.

11 Ms. Greer rested on her papers, so let me hear from 12 you in terms of whatever you want to tell me as to why your 13 claim isn't too late.

14 MS. PICKETT: Well, Your Honor, I've been dealing 15 with this ever since June 22nd of 2004. I bought this 16 automobile in 2003. I kept it in 2004, which like I was 17 driving it between five and 15 miles an hour. And it started
18 shaking in the front and going from side to side. Eventually,
19 it went on the curb and stopped and flipped over.

20 So I didn't know what was going on, but then about 21 October or November I got a recall letter stating that some of 22 the vehicles what they were doing as what mine had done and to 23 take it to a place, you know, to service it. Well, when they 24 called and told me that, I replied that it's already totaled
25 as, you know, as far as the car.

Page 50

1           So I was injured and I went to the hospital, and I'm
2 still hurting from that. And okay, I've got carpal tunnel in 3 both hand (sic), and I didn't know how that could happen, but
4 that's what my doctor said. And I was under a doctor's care,
5 which I'm under now, because my head did a lot of banging. So
6 I'm just saying, of course, I have tried everybody, I've tried
7 the Attorney General, I called everybody.

8           So from that day on, I was on medical on my job. So
9 under the doctor's care, I couldn't go back to work. So then I
10 was terminated. I didn't have a job. I didn't have a car.
11 And I've been -- I had -- my ER income, I'm paying part of my 12 bill, most of my bill from the doctor. So then I was 13 terminated from my job, and I don't have no way to get to a job
14 even if I were able.

15           So, sir, I've been through -- you know, well, I'm not 16 going to say the word, but I've been there and back. And I'm 17 still holding on but I have contacted General Motors on -- 18 because I couldn't get an attorney. I got an attorney for the 19 last -- from February to October. And he called me -- their 20 attorney called me that he was writing me a letter. I didn't 21 know what the letter was about.

22           So when he called me and told me that ISIS (sic) was 23 offering me $2,500 I think it was. That's what he had on that
24 letter. He said call that number and claim the money if you
25 want to. So when I called that letter and I guess he had

Page 51

1       called and there too. And when I called her, and she said
2       well, do you have an attorney. And I said well, no, my
3       attorney gave me. She said well I'm sorry, you are not getting 4       a dime. I said oh, God, now what have I done. The car was the 5       one that (indiscernible 1:14:05).

6                   So I'm trying to get a car. I'm trying to get -- now
7       I'm losing my home. Okay. I've lost my job, I lost my home, I
8       lost my car and I lost my health. So now where do I go to?
9       I'm writing everybody that I can. I worked for GM. I retired
10      there. I bought all of the automobiles from GM. And I don't 11      even know where to go now.

12                  THE COURT: I understand, Ms. Pickett. Ms. Pickett,
13       I didn't want to interrupt you, but the question that I asked,
14       and I'm going to give you one more chance to supplement your 15       comments, although I heard certainly what you already said --

16                  MS. PICKETT: Yeah.

17                  THE COURT: -- is are you aware of any basis in law 18       upon which the deadlines that were imposed under the law of 19       Georgia --

20                  MS. PICKETT: Yes.

21                  THE COURT: -- Michigan or New York --

22                  MS. PICKETT: Yes.

23                  THE COURT: -- why your claim was still timely?

24                  MS. PICKETT: Yes, I do, but they saying that I
25       didn't respond to this matter, and I did. I did respond. But

Page 52

1 I mean, I got no -- I got nobody. Nobody gave me no nothing.
2 But then they sent a inspector out to the car. The car was 3 totaled. So you -- Your Honor, you can't make nobody take your 4 case.

5 THE COURT: Ms. Pickett, did you --

6 MS. PICKETT: But I respond. I respond.

7 THE COURT: Ms. Pickett, did you bring a lawsuit
8 before the GM bankruptcy?

9 MS. PICKETT: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: You did?

11 MS. PICKETT: Yes, sir. Yes, sir.

12 THE COURT: Where did you bring the lawsuit?

13 MS. PICKETT: My lawsuit was sent to, like I said,
14 ESIS, which is General Motors, sent your claim. And we -- so I
15 did everything. And then at the end of November, this attorney
16 sent me that letter, and I never heard from him since. I've 17 called him, called him, called him.

18 Then she advised us to get another attorney because 19 he no longer was representing me. So I got from November to I
20 believe April or March no attorney. I couldn't get anybody.
21 So I'm calling and sending General -- I'm doing everything in 22 my power to try to get this resolved.

23 So now 2009, General Motors wrote me a letter to send 24 in a claim. I sent the claim in before the bar date. I did
25 everything that I was told to do. But now, Your Honor, you

Page 53

1 can't make nobody take your case.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

3 Ms. Greer, do you want to respond?

4 MS. GREER: Certainly, Your Honor. First, Your
5 Honor, as you know, we are extraordinarily sympathetic to 6 whatever losses Ms. Pickett has experienced, but here we have a
7 very straightforward application of the law. Ms. Pickett did
8 not file a lawsuit. We checked extensively the GUC Trust
9 records. We checked Westlaw. We checked the dockets. We did
10 what we could to see what we could find, and there was nothing,
11 Your Honor.

12 Ms. Pickett is correct that she did file a claim with 13 ESIS, the debtors' -- well, old GM's claims agent. And she 14 sought to get some recovery from GM, but she never filed a 15 lawsuit. And as Your Honor knows, it's simply insufficient to 16 satisfy the statute of limitations to just file the claim with 17 the claims agent.

18 Your Honor, Ms. Pickett is also right that she filed
19 a timely claim in the bankruptcy case. But even a timely filed
20 claim, to the extent the statute of limitations expired prior 21 to the bankruptcy, does not make for an exception to the 22 statute of limitations.

23 Your Honor, this is a very similar issue to the 24 Smalley (ph) claim, which was before this Court also in the GM
25 matter where the claim expired -- the statute of limitations,

Page 54

1 excuse me, expired pre-petition. And that case, Your Honor,
2 was recently affirmed by the district court. They made clear
3 that if the statute of limitations expires prior to the 4 bankruptcy the claim has to be disallowed. Your Honor, the GUC
5 Trust submits that the same treatment should occur here.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Everybody stand by please.

7 Ms. Pickett, like Ms. Greer, I very much sympathize
8 with you for the losses you incurred and all of the heartache
9 that you've gone through. But as a matter of law, I'm required
10 to disallow your claim because it wasn't brought in time. The 11 word of art we use in the law is that it's untimely and that 12 it's barred by the statute of limitations. And in hopefully as 13 plain English as I can, I'm just going to take a couple of 14 minutes to explain what I mean by that.

15 Under the law, after somebody suffers an injury or 16 has been legally wronged, time limits are imposed by the law to 17 bring a lawsuit. I well understand and I think Ms. Greer
18 understood and acknowledged that you had a back and forth with 19 ESIS, GM's claims agent, trying to get relief without a 20 lawsuit, but your efforts in that regard were unsuccessful. If 21 you were unhappy with ESIS told you or if ESIS didn't respond
22 or if GM didn't respond, then the law imposed on you a duty to 23 bring a lawsuit within the time required under the law.

24 Now, one can look at the statute of limitations of 25 three states, those of Georgia, Michigan and New York, but I

Page 55

1 don't have to decide which state's law applies because if it
2 was in Georgia, where the accident took place and where I think
3 the best argument as to the applicable statute of limitations
4 would apply, you had two years to bring a personal injury
5 action, four years to bring an action for injury to property
6 and four years to bring an action for a breach of implied
7 warranty of merchantability. Since your accident took place on 8 June 24th, 2004, the statute of limitations, the deadline for 9 bringing the lawsuit, expired on June 24, 2008, give or take a
10 day. Michigan allows one extra year to bring a personal injury
11 claim but the same amount of time to bring claims for injuries
12 to property and for breach of the implied warranty of 13 merchantability. And New York is the same as Michigan.

14 Under each of the applicable three states law, and I
15 use applicable charitably because frankly, I think Georgia law
16 applies, your claim wasn't brought in time. And for that --

17 MS. PICKETT: Your Honor --

18 THE COURT: And for that reason, I am required to 19 disallow your claim.

20 Now, hopefully you heard what I told the prior folks
21 on this call about the opportunity to be heard on a notice of 22 settlement and rights to appeal. I'm going to direct the GUC
23 Trust to settle an order consistent with this ruling. And, Ms.
24 Pickett, your time to appeal this ruling will run from the time
25 of the entry of the order and not from the time of this

Page 56

1 dictated decision.

2 I do want to remind you that the time to appeal an
3 order from the bankruptcy court is very short, and you have 4 only 14 days from the time of the entry of that order to appeal
5 it.

6 Ms. Greer, could I impose on you for the same
7 courtesy that Mr. Griffiths provided me? Do you have Ms.
8 Pickett's phone number or a way to reach her?

9 MS. GREER: Yes, Your Honor. We spoke to her this 10 morning, so I'm happy to reach out to her.

11 THE COURT: When that order is entered, would you
12 please call her and tell her that so she knows that her 14 days
13 starts to run? I'm not ordering you to do it, but I appreciate
14 the courtesy.

15 MS. GREER: We certainly will, Your Honor.

16 MS. PICKETT: Your Honor?

17 THE COURT: Yes, Ms. Pickett.

18 MS. PICKETT: Your Honor, could I ask you a question?

19 THE COURT: Yes, as long as it's not rearguing what I
20 already ruled on.

21 MS. PICKETT: Oh, no, no. I'm not smart about 22 filing. What were you saying I was supposed to file on?

23 THE COURT: You don't have to appeal, but you have 24 the right to appeal.

25 MS. PICKETT: A lawsuit, a lawsuit. I'm trying to

Page 57

1 find that out. I thought maybe that an attorney filed that. I
2 didn't know. I don't even know how to go about doing that.

3 THE COURT: You don't know how to go about appealing?

4 MS. PICKETT: Yeah, but I'm -- yeah. But what I'm
5 saying is I don't know about filing. I caught filing a claim
6 again against General Motors, but I don't know about -- I'm
7 ignorant about a lawsuit. I thought an attorney did that. I
8 mean, I did what I thought -- you know, that I knew as I
9 couldn't get an attorney. But I didn't know. I thought I was 10 filing a lawsuit.

11 THE COURT: Well, forgive me, Ms. Pickett --

12 MS. PICKETT: I'm not aware of that.

13 THE COURT: Uh-huh. I understand. Forgive me, Ms.
14 Pickett. I'm not allowed to give you legal advice. I --

15 MS. PICKETT: Okay. But I was just explaining. I
16 didn't know. I thought that's what I was doing already.

17 THE COURT: Well, I understand your explanation, but 18 the statute of limitations applies not just to people who have 19 lawyers but also people who don't have lawyers. And it applies
20 to anybody who hasn't brought the claim by means of a lawsuit
21 in the time.

22 So if you want, you may appeal even without a lawyer.
23 But I can't give you legal advice about anything more than 24 that. All I can do is explain my ruling.

25 MS. PICKETT: Okay. Okay. So I have 14 days to

Page 58

1 appeal this.

2 THE COURT: To appeal it, which time starts to run
3 from the time the order is entered.

4 MS. PICKETT: Okay.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MS. PICKETT: So will that -- will this order be sent
7 to me directly from the court?

8 THE COURT: Ms. Greer, do me a favor and send it to 9 her as well since she may not have Internet.

10 However, if I -- if you can call at that time because 11 I can't help you if the copy of the order is delayed in the 12 mail. If you want to appeal it, Ms. Pickett, an early --

13 MS. PICKETT: (Indiscernible 1:27:20).

14 THE COURT: Forgive me. You can't speak over me.

15 MS. PICKETT: Okay.

16 THE COURT: If -- an early appeal will be counted as 17 an appeal, so think about whether you want to appeal it. Ms.
18 Greer isn't obligated to call you when the order is entered,
19 but she said she would as a favor to the Court. Just remember
20 you have that deadline. Okay.

21 MS. PICKETT: Okay, sir. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you. Have a good day.

23 MS. PICKETT: Thank you. You too.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Next, Dr. Shah.

25 Mr. Shah, come to one of the counsel table please.

Page 59

1 MS. GREER: Your Honor, if it's okay with you, I'd
2 like to introduce my partner, Debra Kelly, who's an employment
3 lawyer and is going to present on Dr. Shah.

4 Before she comes up to the podium, I would note we
5 have her pro hac vice motion pending. I'm not certain that it
6 was entered by the Court at this time.

7 THE COURT: I'm not sure if it has been either
8 because normally unless there's some red flag they're approved
9 without me seeing them.

10 MS. GREER: Okay.

11 THE COURT: But I'll grant it right now in case
12 that's an issue.

13 MS. GREER: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Ms. Kelly, good morning.

15 MS. KELLY: Good morning, Your Honor. Would you like 16 me to give you -- I'm trying to follow protocol -- a card as 17 well?

18 THE COURT: Since you're the last one on, you can 19 drop it off with the reporter either now or at the end of the 20 day.

21 MS. KELLY: Good morning, Your Honor. It's a
22 pleasure to be here. I will confess. As Ms. Greer said, I am
23 an employment lawyer and I am not a bankruptcy lawyer. But I
24 have had a tutorial, so I hope to be direct and to the point.

25 I am mindful of the fact that Dr. Shah is here. And

Page 60

1 as an employment lawyer, I will say that one -- something that
2 we often address is it's a very personal area of law, and
3 people who experience an adverse employment action are hurt,
4 disappointed and misunderstand the fact that they didn't get
5 the outcome they want and it has something that is therefore 6 unlawful. This is an quintessential case of that. And in 7 looking at what Dr. Shah has filed, it is an example of 8 basically a kitchen sink pleading or, to change the metaphor,
9 he has put -- thrown a lot of spaghetti up against the wall and 10 hoped that one stick of it hits. And indeed, it has not.

11 As our pleadings say, and I'll be very brief here,
12 that there is as a matter of law Dr. Shah cannot sustain his 13 First Amendment claim because there's no state action. He 14 cannot sustain his claim for retaliation or race because he 15 didn't plead that in his EEOC charge. He can't discuss things
16 prior to February of 2008 because that's beyond the applicable
17 period given that you only have 300 days from the -- to file
18 your EEOC suit.

19 And also, Your Honor, even if everything that Dr.
20 Shah says is true, and he says a lot, it doesn't matter
21 legally. I understand that this is an upsetting circumstance
22 for him practically to lose his job, and I'm mindful of that.
23 But legally, his allegations of age, color and national origin
24 describe himself, and they amount to an allegation of 25 discrimination by subtraction where you say I don't like what

Page 61

1       happened to me, I look in the mirror and I am a member of the
2       following protected categories. Therefore, the adverse action
3       happened because I am a member of those categories. And 4       indeed, that causation, that bridge, that connection is utterly 5       lacking even if the Court were to take everything that the 6       complainant says as is true.

7                  In his response brief to our objection, Dr. Shah
8       spends a lot of time on the religion allegation and says that 9       the decision to terminate his employment was based upon his 10      religion. But indeed, as a matter of law, again, he doesn't 11      even state the prima facie case to make a religion claim.

12                 What he does is he spends a great amount of time in 13      his complaint talking about his belief in Vedic literature and 14      his belief that Vedic literature is the proper way to practice
15      medicine. And I will quote him, "The eternal and blissful
16      Vedic literature and modern science are created by the almighty 17      one for the entire mankind and note irrespective of his or her
18      religious, national, cultural, linguistic, racial, cast, creed,
19      affiliation in this small globe."

20                 So he is a proponent of a method of practicing method
21      with which his colleagues disagreed. By his own admission, a
22      belief in medicine is not the same as a religious belief.
23      Note, he says irrespective of his or her religion. And for the 24      reasons we set forth in our brief, and I won't reiterate them
25      here, he doesn't even state a prima facie case.

Page 62

1                   So in addition to failing to sufficiently plead the 2 legal and factual basis for this claim, even if everything he
3 says were true, he cannot get the damages that he seeks because 4 this Court has ruled that in this matter there will not be
5 punitive damages. Moreover, even if this Court had not ruled
6 that, the federal law under which he pleads caps compensatory
7 and punitive damages at $300,000. He asks for $10 million.

8                   The compensatory damages he seeks of $500,000, let's
9 put aside the merits of the case. We ask this Court to enter 10 an order which would indeed cap his compensatories at what he 11 pleads, which is $500,000, and to order that he cannot sustain
12 a claim for punitive damages because, again, this Court and the 13 federal law and indeed even the Michigan EEO law, which he
14 pleads against, do not allow punitive damages under Michigan
15 law and at all. And in federal law, it is capped.

16                  THE COURT: Pause please, Ms. Kelly.

17                  MS. KELLY: I am finished.

18                  THE COURT: If I heard you up to the last couple of 19 minutes, I -- and from your papers, I understood that you're 20 attacking the underlying claim even for the compensatory
21 portion.

22                  MS. KELLY: Yes, Your Honor.

23                  THE COURT: But you're saying that even if I think I 24 need to have an evidentiary hearing or something else on the 25 compensatory portion that I should cap the totality of the

Page 63

1 claim and dismiss the claim insofar as it asks for punitive.

2 MS. KELLY: Yes, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Okay. So I understood you correctly.

4 Did I hear you to say you were finished?

5 MS. KELLY: Yes.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Dr. Shah, would you please come up
7 to the main lectern where Ms. Kelly was and I'll hear your 8 argument?

9 And for the purpose of this analysis, I'm going to 10 assume that you feel that you were wronged, but I want you to 11 focus on the legal points that Ms. Kelly made about whether the 12 facts that you have support the discrimination claims that 13 you're talking about. And in particular, I want you to address
14 the punitive damages aspect, one of which I've already ruled on 15 in another claimant's case in the General Motors case and 16 which, while that ruling isn't binding on you, is a precedent,
17 not to mention the precedence that I relied on in issuing that 18 earlier ruling.

19 Go ahead please, sir.

20 MR. SHAH: Good afternoon, Your Honor, and good
21 afternoon to everyone.

22 And this is the first time in the court in my life.
23 I'm 62 right now and pleasure to be here, but this is the first
24 time here in the court so far. And this is the first time I
25 drove in New York today. I had been to New York several times,

Page 64

1 but this is the first time I drove. And it took me about -- I
2 thought it was only 10 miles from La Guardia, but it took me --
3 in Michigan it takes 30 minutes. It took about one and a half
4 hours, but I was in time.

5 Anyway, so thank you very much for giving me
6 opportunity to discuss with you about this case. And I'm here
7 in this country almost 30 years. My English is not that bad as
8 I can speak reasonably very nice, good English. And I'm sure
9 that you all will understand.

10 And first thing, just I know that Stephanie Greer and 11 you're the same girl just -- okay, so okay. Just I want to 12 make sure. Okay.

13 So in my case, just I've -- in 2008, just I was 14 terminated on July 11, 2008 by my supervisor -- not the 15 supervisor but the senior group medical director, Dr. Miller.
16 And just I thought it was unfair based on religion, color, age
17 and nationality. And I filed about 10-page letter to EEOC on 18 -- in July. It was -- sorry, it was December 4, 2008, after 19 four months. And I explain the reasons for my terminations and 20 explanations in 11 page.

21 And the case is going on since 2008. And I reply
22 about two weeks ago, about two weeks, about a response to the 23 defendant attorney, and I explained everything about -- in 24 details about discrimination based upon religion, nationality,
25 age and color. So I believe this is the concrete information,

Page 65

1 what we call prima facie, and it gives a lot of detailed
2 information about how this happened. And the reason is
3 primarily is religions and nationality and color and age. And
4 I explained these informations in my brief and also in my EEOC
5 letter about in 2008. And I strongly believe that these four 6 factor has to do with termination of myself on June 11, 2008 by 7 Dr. Miller.

8 And so just I give so many example that in many, many 9 conferences just as doctors we had to attend certain
10 conferences organized by General Motors and also by a different
11 group and different universities. And in conferences, we 12 discuss, all the presenter, cardiologists, pathologists,
13 psychologists, psychiatrists, they tell the -- they talk about 14 more than topics about the different knowledge in biomedical
15 science. And at the end of the conference, they ask the 16 questions, anyone has some comment or they want to share their 17 concerns. And usually that is during the question and answer
18 sessions.

19 And most of the doctors usually I have seen, usually 20 they come to the conference and they learn something what's 21 said by the scholars, cardiologists, pathologists and
22 psychiatrists. And usually they don't answer or don't ask
23 certain questions, which is out of the tenet of the biomedical 24 science. And since last six, seven years, during many 25 conference, General Motors conferences and all other

Page 66

1 conferences out of the General Motors, I was asking so many
2 questions to the presenters and telling that can you answer
3 these questions. This is my questions and just I want to share
4 with you. These are my concerns. And many time I have seen
5 that presenter, they don't like that questions. And sometimes,
6 they ridicule you. They just -- they ignore you. And
7 naturally, they don't listens to you. They say that's not a
8 good question.

9 So for an example, just there was a cardiology --
10 recently just about a month ago, we had a conference with a Dr.
11 Peter Carmel. He's the AMA president, American Medical 12 Association president. He invited 50 doctors to share their 13 concerns and questions and other information. And in present
14 -- in the presence of the 50 very good doctors from all over
15 the United States, I asked that soul is the original pacemaker
16 in our heart or Sinudenoid (ph), Sinnoid (ph) is original
17 pacemaker in our heart. They enjoyed this. Some people like
18 -- most people like because these are research questions.

19 And I asked these questions in that conference and 20 also asked -- a couple of years I asked the same questions to 21 the cardiology conference. And I said hey, you are 22 cardiologists, you should know, the heart with a pacemaker,
23 original pacemaker in the heart, is the soul the original
24 pacemaker or is a similar original pacemaker. And the chairman
25 of the cardiologist conference said that okay, Dr. Shah, these

Page 67

1 are very profound questions. We don't have any answers. We
2 need some more study, research, then we can answer these 3 questions.

4 So, Your Honor, what I'm trying to say that in
5 conferences, in workplaces and you talk with your colleagues
6 about certain topics, which you feel it can help in our 7 biomedical science or conventional medical science. Then we
8 should discuss as a friendly manner, and it should not be a
9 base that you can terminate some person if you don't like their 10 questions. And this thing happened at the General Motors with 11 so many different doctors.

12 And I will give an example. Just I was terminated on 13 June 2008. Two months before, I sent a letter to Dr. Miller.
14 And I explained this thing what I said I'm saying right now.
15 Okay. This weekend, give so many high dynamics in the 16 biomedical science, even in the occupational medicines. And so
17 this -- what I was -- I'm talking about, just the Vedic
18 literature and Sanskrit language I'm reading since last 30
19 years.

20 And I'm practicing last 35 years medicine, so I know
21 both sciences, biomedical science and also Vedic literature or 22 Kolisted (ph) philosophy or Hindu philosophy. And just so if 23 you express your thoughts or express your belief, you can call
24 it religious belief, scientific belief, biomedical science,
25 psychiatric belief, and we can discuss in a friendly manner

Page 68

1 with each other, whether you like, agree or don't agree or
2 disagree with that. And in our democratic country just this is
3 the thing that we can discuss any issue that you like it
4 irrespective of what you like it, don't like it, irrespective
5 of your religions, irrespective of your culture, irrespective
6 your color, irrespective your nationality. And we should 7 discuss in a healthy, sportsman's spirit rather -- and that
8 should be used -- that's what I'm saying that just -- what I'm 9 saying that we should use our beliefs and our knowledge for 10 higher purpose in any area in medicines, law, sports and other 11 things. And we can discuss very friendly manner, and it should 12 not be used other way, negative way.

13 What I'm saying is the negative approach that suppose
14 you talk to -- talk these kind of issues. If you don't like 15 it, then they're going to let you go. So I believe --

16 THE COURT: All right.

17 MR. SHAH: So, Your Honor, just thanks for listening
18 to me. And as defendant attorney just they wants to settle or 19 expunge or something like that, but I request you, please keep 20 this case moving. And there's a lot of things we can discover.

21 THE COURT: Thank you, Dr. Shah.

22 MR. SHAH: Thank you very much.

23 THE COURT: A couple of questions.

24 MR. SHAH: Right.

25 THE COURT: Before the EEOC you asserted a national

Page 69

1 origin discrimination claim, but you didn't include a racial
2 discrimination claim. Which if either of those are you now
3 asserting before me?

4 MR. SHAH: Basically just national was more important
5 than the racial. The reason is that peoples in India, they are 6 considered as a Caucasian, dark Caucasians.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. SHAH: And you are here it is white Caucasians.
9 So it was not that important.

10 THE COURT: You're contending that you were 11 discharged because you're of Indian origin?

12 MR. SHAH: That is my impression here that here in 13 this country just is sometimes what we call when Indians and 14 when Americans, sometimes they use it little derogatory way.
15 Sometimes Indian word is used just lower than Americans. So
16 I'm Indian and I'm also American both. I am citizen of this 17 America, so I'm American.

18 THE COURT: Did you say you were American born?

19 MR. SHAH: No.

20 THE COURT: You're born in India?

21 MR. SHAH: I was born India, so I'm Indian. And I'm 22 citizen, so I'm Americans.

23 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I didn't understand.

24 MR. SHAH: No, I was born in India, so I am the 25 Indian citizen. And I came to United States in 1982, so I

Page 70

1 become American citizen 1988. So I'm Americans and Indians
2 both.

3 THE COURT: I understand.

4 MR. SHAH: But what I'm saying is, Your Honor, that 5 sometimes my impression in these 30 years of this -- in this
6 country that sometime the word use Indians little derogatory
7 way rather than -- so that's why it's called national -- some 8 whites sometimes they use national discrimination. Yes.

9 THE COURT: And from time to time I saw references to 10 age discrimination, but I didn't see any proof of age
11 discrimination in your claim.

12 MR. SHAH: Your Honor, age is just as the bottom.
13 Just first is the national, religion, the national second,
14 color and just I put age too.

15 THE COURT: Now, did anybody say anything or did you
16 see anything that led you to believe that you were being 17 discriminated against because of your age?

18 MR. SHAH: I think so. Just once you get older, I
19 was 59 at the time and --

20 THE COURT: You say you were 59 at the time?

21 MR. SHAH: 19 -- in 2008 I was 59. Right now, I'm 62
22 right now. And they give priority to those who are younger.
23 Dr. Burton, he's younger, well, 15 years younger than me. He 24 was selected immediately after Dr. Ortega (ph) retired. And 25 they bypass me. Dr. Miller bypass me and selected Dr. Burton,

Page 71

1 who is 15 years younger than me. So that is of attack.

2 There's some relationship.

3 THE COURT: But that was after the difference in 4 medical philosophy that took place; am I correct?

5 MR. SHAH: I'm sorry, sir.

6 THE COURT: There was a difference in medical
7 philosophy as to the extent to which patients should be treated
8 under the Vedic doctrine; am I correct?

9 MR. SHAH: Your Honor, just I am the medical doctor.
10 I'm an allopathic doctor. So I treat the patient according to 11 allopathic medicines. I was not treating according to the 12 Vedic literature or Eastern philosophy. It was just my belief
13 and my information and idea, which naturally I cannot practice
14 because I am practicing allopathic medicine. So I treated all
15 the patient according to the standard of the allopathic
16 medicines rather than other way.

17 THE COURT: Uh-huh. Okay. Thank you.

18 Ms. Kelly, I'll hear reply.

19 MS. KELLY: Respectfully, I think what Dr. Shah said
20 just verifies everything that I had argued. It is his 21 impression, which is, again, this kitchen sink, let me throw
22 out all my demographics and see if it could be because of any 23 one of them.

24 He spends a lot -- he spent a lot of time again today
25 talking about that his belief in the way to practice medicine

Page 72

1 is not one that other people agreed with. There's nothing that
2 is religion based on that by his own pleading. And also, that
3 had nothing to do with the reason why he was terminated. He
4 was terminated, and I read from the supporting documents here,
5 because of an inability to diagnose and treat work-related
6 injuries.

7 In March of 2008, he failed to recognize an 8 employee's non-displaced distal radius fracture. He didn't 9 provide a splint. The same month, he wrote restrictions for an 10 employee without evaluating the employee's job to determine if 11 the restrictions were necessary. On two occasions in April of 12 '08 he failed to accurately document patient histories,
13 misdiagnosed an employee's knee pain as arthritis, which was 14 subsequently determined to be a meniscus tear that required
15 surgery.

16 These and these alone are the reasons why he was let 17 go. It has nothing to do with the respective differences about 18 the ways to practice medicine. And again, as a matter of law,
19 a difference about the way to practice medicine is not the same
20 as a religious-based disagreement and an impression, which is 21 exactly the word Dr. Shah just used, is not sufficient grounds
22 to state a claim to continue before this Court. Thank you.

23 THE COURT: Okay. All right. It's now just about 24 1:00 o'clock. It's been a long morning. Get yourselves some 25 lunch. Be back by 1:15, and I will dictate a decision at that

Page 73

1 time or shortly thereafter as I can be ready for it. We're in 2 recess.

3 (Court confers with clerk)

4 THE COURT: Forgive me. It's already 1:00 o'clock.
5 No, I'm giving you an hour and a quarter to eat lunch not 15
6 minutes, 2:15.

7 (Court confers with clerk)

8 MR. KODSY: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: Yeah. Mr. Kodsy, you know that this
10 hearing started at 1:00 o'clock. And I called your matter
11 maybe 45 minutes ago, which would have been about 12:15. Why
12 were you not on the phone at the appropriate time?

13 MR. KODSY: I had no idea I was supposed to call in,
14 Your Honor. No one notified me of that process. So I --

15 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I didn't understand that.

16 MR. KODSY: Excuse me?

17 THE COURT: Would you --

18 MR. KODSY: What was that, Your Honor?

19 THE COURT: Would you repeat that? Frankly, I didn't
20 understand what you said.

21 MR. KODSY: I was not alerted that I was supposed to 22 call in. I didn't have a phone number or anything. I was not 23 notified. And --

24 THE COURT: I have you on my phone log as having been 25 expected to be on the call.

Page 74

1                   MR. KODSY: Nobody called me or anything about that.
2 I have no idea.

3                   THE COURT: Well, I've already ruled based upon the 4 papers. Is there anything you would have told me in oral
5 argument that you didn't put in your papers?

6                   MR. KODSY: No, Your Honor. It's just the fact that,
7 you know, the expenses that I am -- I've spent, you know,
8 collecting here because of this stay. There was another issue
9 that I wanted to request some kind of relief for that because I
10 have -- although I am doing this pro se, it's -- I'm disabled
11 and, you know, so without a vehicle. And it's been going on 12 for several years.

13                  And while I'm trying to get to the bottom of it, you
14 know, the -- I'm in bankruptcy and, you know, they're not doing
15 anything to move the case up. You know, it's just at a 16 standstill and there's nothing I could do. But I mean, for my 17 time and having to vacate this matter at such a late time, it's 18 very costly. And I was wondering if I could get some relief 19 for that.

20                  THE COURT: All right. I've heard nothing in this to 21 cause me to change my earlier ruling. I -- the other creditors
22 of GM are not in a position to compensate you for your 23 aggravation in connection with this matter.

24                  All right. We're adjourned until 2:15.
25                  (Recess from 1:02 to 2:10 p.m.)

Page 75

1                   THE COURT: I apologize for keeping you all waiting.
2                   I understand, Dr. Shah, that you have a plane to catch. I want
3                   to enable you to make it. I was going to give you a more
4                   fulsome decision, but what I'm going to do instead is I'm going 5                   to summarize the basis for the decision and a few of the most 6                   important facts. And if you, Dr. Shah, wish to appeal, then
7                   I'll issue a more fulsome decision either by a very lengthy 8                   decision dictated for the record or by a writing.

9                   In this contested matter in the Chapter 11 case of 10                  Motors Liquidation Company, formerly known as General Motors
11                  Corporation or old GM, Atul Shah, a contract physician formerly
12                  under contract with old GM, seems an allowed claim of $10
13                  million for compensatory and punitive damages. He asserts that 14                  he was unlawfully terminated, quote, because of religion, 15                  comma, race, comma, et cetera, end quote. See Exhibit H, his 16                  proof of claim.

17                  Fleshing out his claim somewhat, he alleges: one,
18                  denial of First Amendment rights under the Constitutions of the 19                  U.S. and Michigan; two, discrimination on the basis of color,
20                  national origin, religion, race and age under, as applicable,
21                  Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Michigan
22                  Elliott-Larsen Civil Rights Act, which is sometimes referred to 23                  ELCRA but because I hate acronyms so much I'm going to refer it
24                  as the Michigan civil rights law, and the Age Discrimination in 25                  Employment Act, which is sometimes referred to as the ADEA, but

Page 76

1 again, because I find acronyms so annoying for people who don't
2 live in the field I'm going to refer to it as the Federal Age
3 Discrimination Act.

4 Then he also alleges retaliation for engaging in
5 activity protected by Title VII. The GUC Trust, the trust
6 formed for the benefit of old GM's creditors, objects to the 7 claims. Among its many other points, it notes that the EEOC
8 and the Michigan civil rights department could find no merit in 9 his allegations, and that punitive damages, which presumably
10 represent the overwhelming bulk of this $10 million claim,
11 cannot be recovered under either the federal or Michigan anti-12 discrimination statutes or even federal bankruptcy law where,
13 as here, we have a liquidating Chapter 11 case, and the real
14 victims of any punitive damages award would be the debtors'
15 other innocent creditors.

16 The great bulk of Dr. Shah's claims must be dismissed
17 as a matter of law, and the remainder must be dismissed for 18 failure of allegations that if proven would result in a viable
19 claim. More specifically, and now I'm going to slow down even 20 though I know you have to catch the plane, the First Amendment
21 claim must be dismissed because there is no individual right of 22 action against a private entity, here old GM, for the violation
23 of an individual's First Amendment rights.

24 The retaliation claim is barred as a matter of law
25 because it was not included in the EEOC charge and can't be

Page 77

1 found to be sufficiently close to that which was alleged to
2 take advantage of the tolerance that's sometimes permitted in 3 raising related claims, particularly by pro se claimants.

4 The punitive damages claims must be dismissed because 5 they aren't recoverable under one of the federal statutes or 6 the Michigan statute, and under the other federal statute even 7 if they are otherwise allowable must be capped for a company of 8 GM's size at $300,000 under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 under 9 Title VII. The punitive damages claims must be dismissed for 10 the additional reason that they can't be recovered against the 11 estate in a liquidating Chapter 11 case as a matter of federal 12 bankruptcy law, as I held only a couple of months ago in 13 another case involving old GM that where there was substantial
14 evidence of a failure to disclose information that old GM
15 should have disclosed.

16 The only close issue that's presented before me and 17 it's why I took so long to think this through and kept you all 18 waiting is whether I should continue the small portion of the 19 claims that remain, those for discrimination based on national 20 origin and perhaps age, for an evidentiary hearing or whether 21 they should be dismissed now. But after reading the entirety
22 of Dr. Shah's submission and taking his allegations as true, 23 there are no facts as contrasted to conclusions and his 24 statements of his perceptions from which I could find any 25 discrimination. Based on the facts as alleged, I can't even

Page 78

1 find claims of discrimination to be plausible.

2 I don't expect evidence of discrimination to appear
3 in Macy's window. Most of the time, though I don't see this 4 issue -- these issues as much as I see other types of issues in 5 the bankruptcy court, I would assume that evidence of 6 discrimination must be inferred, and people don't admit it in 7 so many words. But here there are no facts alleged other than 8 the fact that Dr. Shah, while a naturalized U.S. citizen, is 9 Indian ancestry, Hindu and was 59 years old at the time.

10 There was apparently a difference in views as to 11 medical philosophy with other doctors disagreeing with Dr.
12 Shah's view, which he apparently shared with them, that Eastern 13 philosophy had, quote, superior concepts, quote, over current 14 medical science, including biomedical science. But that is a
15 view as to medical practice not religion or at least it becomes 16 a view as to medical practice when doctors at GM are 17 determining how GM workers are to be treated. Those facts
18 without more do not make out a discrimination case. And here,
19 there is no more.

20 I read each and every one of the statements in Dr.
21 Shah's response to ascertain whether if proven they would give 22 me a basis for concluding that he had been discriminated
23 against. I could find none. That's not enough to make out a
24 claim for $300,000, the maximum permissible under the cap much 25 less the $10 million that Dr. Shah seeks.

Page 79

1           That summarizes my ruling, but I want to make one or
2       two observations further that appear from the findings of fact
3       or would if I were required to issue a lengthier decision or 4       issue one in writing. In his charge before the EEOC, Dr. Shah
5       stated I can only conclude that I have been discriminated
6       against by being removed from my position due to my color, age,
7       religion and national origin in violation of Title VII of the 8       Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and the Age
9       Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended.

10           I looked at the facts from which Dr. Shah drew that 11      conclusion, the "I can only conclude that." I could not draw a 12      like conclusion nor could I find that if facts of the type that 13      he articulated were fleshed out further that that -- any of 14      those facts would support a claim of discrimination. Believe 15      me; I looked.

16           Though it does not appear in Dr. Shah's papers, the 17      GUC Trust has introduced evidence of its dissatisfaction with 18      Dr. Shah's performance as a physician, including evidence of 19      failures to correctly diagnose and treat work-related injuries, 20      poor documentation and lack of thoroughness. While there are 21      contentions by Dr. Shah that that was all pretextual, he has 22      given me no basis for ignoring that evidence or evidence of a
23      motivation to rely upon a pretext.

24           More important than the issue of fact that would 25      arise if either of Dr. Stanley Miller, the senior group medical

Page 80

1 director, or Dr. Anthony Burton, the medical director at the 2 Ypsilanti, Michigan plant, were to testify as to what they were
3 thinking, more important is what Dr. Shah is not allege. I
4 don't doubt that he feels discriminated against by reason of 5 his national origin or perhaps his religion or age, but I see 6 no actual facts as contrasted to conclusions evidencing that.

7 He asserts that the complaints about his patient care
8 and the other dissatisfaction with his work were pretextual,
9 but there are no facts that have been alleged that supports
10 such an inference. There are no indications that others of any 11 other ethnic group or age were favored over him. I think he 12 captured the evidence or lack of evidence in his EEOC
13 complaint. I can only conclude, those words surrounded by 14 quotes. I don't doubt that he felt discriminated against, but 15 there is nothing here other than the perception.

16 Now, Ms. Greer, Ms. Kelly, I want you to defer
17 settlement of an order in accordance with this and give Dr.
18 Shah a chance to think about the ruling, even if it requires
19 waiting for him to get a transcript of it, and then to let you
20 know whether he wishes to appeal or not. If he does, then I
21 will flesh out my decision with full findings of fact and 22 conclusions of law either by a very lengthy dictated decision
23 or by putting it in writing.

24 But since the time under the Federal Rules of 25 Bankruptcy Procedure for taking an appeal is so short, and what

Page 81

1 I've dictated so far only summarizes what would otherwise be a
2 lengthier ruling, I don't want any clocks running against him
3 now nor do I want either side to have to work with less than a
4 complete ruling. So you're to talk amongst yourselves. And,
5 Dr. Shah, you should let first them and then my chambers, with 6 a copy to them, know if you want to take this on appeal to a
7 higher court. And if you do, then I'll decide how much more I
8 want to say. But the bottom line of the ruling and its overall
9 rationale remains as is.

10 I also will need for Dr. Shah to understand the 11 rationale for this ruling and any reviewing court, if it goes
12 up, my relatively recent decision in another Motors Liquidation
13 matter where I disallowed a claim for punitive damages for that 14 withholding of the evidence. Here, as there, bankruptcy law
15 does not permit penalizing innocent creditors in a liquidating
16 Chapter 11 by reason of an award of punitive damages. And the 17 cases that were then put before me, which so far as I can tell
18 have been in substantial part put before me again, and my 19 earlier dictated decision as to that are obviously of great 20 relevance.

21 All right. Dr. Shah, I know you have to catch a 22 plane. Not by way of re-argument, does either side have any 23 questions before we let him go? Doctor?

24 MR. SHAH: Yes. Thank you.

25 THE COURT: Come to a microphone please. Otherwise

Page 82

1 you won't be recorded.

2 MR. SHAH: Thank you, Your Honor, for your
3 conclusion. And just as you said, just we are to talk with the 4 attorney and find out what we are going to do that? Is that --

5 THE COURT: Yes. I can't give you legal advice, but 6 I would suggest that you think about what you heard.

7 MR. SHAH: Okay.

8 THE COURT: I'm directing Ms. Greer when she gets a
9 copy of the transcript to share it with you, let you read it,
10 let you understand the basis for the ruling, then you let first
11 her and then my chambers know if you think you want to appeal.

12 MR. SHAH: Okay. So just let me discuss with them
13 and --

14 THE COURT: Yes.

15 MR. SHAH: Thank you, Your Honor, for your
16 conclusions. And I'm so -- please, I'm very thankful to you
17 and everyone. Thank you.

18 THE COURT: Thank you very much. Have a good flight.

19 Anything else, Ms. Greer?

20 MS. GREER: Only briefly, Your Honor. If we could
21 just ask Dr. Shah if he would please let us know within let's
22 call it a week after receiving the transcript. At least we can 23 make sure we're continuing to move forward.

24 THE COURT: I understand your need to go forward.
25 You've got a pro se litigant. Give him a couple of weeks.

Page 83

1 MS. GREER: You've got it, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. All right. We're adjourned.

3 Thank you.

4 (Whereupon these proceedings were concluded at 3:31 PM)

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

Page 84

1                   I N D E X

2

3                   R U L I N G S

|   | PAGE | LINE |
|---|------|------|
| 5      Defendant Aurelius Investment, LLC's       | --   | --   |
| 6      Motion to Dismiss GUC Trust's Complaint    |      |      |
| 7      For Failure To State A Claim Upon          |      |      |
| 8      Which Relief May Be Granted                |      |      |
| 9   |      |      |
| 10     Motion of Motors Liquidation Company       | 14   | 6    |
| 11     GUC Trust for Limited Modification of the  |      |      |
| 12     Automatic Stay and the Plan                |      |      |
| 13     Injunction as to Action Filed by           |      |      |
| 14     Burton Taft, Administrator of the          |      |      |
| 15     Estates of Brian Taft                      |      |      |
| 16  |      |      |
| 17     Motion of Motors Liquidation Company       | 18   | 14   |
| 18     GUC Trust for Limited Modifications of the |      |      |
| 19     Automatic Stay and the Plan Injunction     |      |      |
| 20     as to the Action Filed by Sheriff          |      |      |
| 21     Rafik Kodsy                                |      |      |
| 22  |      |      |
| 23  |      |      |
| 24  |      |      |
| 25  |      |      |

Page 85

1 R U L I N G S

|   | PAGE | LINE |
|---|------|------|
| 3 Motion of Motors Liquidation Company          | 20   | 16   |
| 4 GUC Trust for Entry of an Order               |      |      |
| 5 Fixing the Amount of and Allowing             |      |      |
| 6 Claim No. 11385 Filed by Dana H. Fox          |      |      |
| 7 for Distribution Purposes and Granting        |      |      |
| 8 Related Relief                                |      |      |
| 9   |      |      |
| 10 Eighty-Third Omnibus Objection to Claims     | 44   | 15   |
| 11 (Welfare Benefit Claims of Retired           |      |      |
| 12 and Former Salaried and Executive Employees) |      |      |
| 13  |      |      |
| 14 Debtors' 103rd Omnibus Objection to Claims   | 44   | 15   |
| 15 (Welfare Benefit Claims of Retired           |      |      |
| 16 and Former Salaried and Executive Employees) |      |      |
| 17  |      |      |
| 18 Debtors 114th Omnibus Objection to Claims    | 44   | 15   |
| 19 (Welfare Benefit Claims of Retired           |      |      |
| 20 and Former Salaried and Executive Employees) |      |      |
| 21  |      |      |
| 22  |      |      |
| 23  |      |      |
| 24  |      |      |
| 25  |      |      |

Page 86

1 R U L I N G S

|    | PAGE   | LINE |    |
|----|--|------|----|
| 2  |  |      |    |
| 3  |  |      |    |
| 4  | Debtors' 169th Omnibus Objection to Claims   | 44   | 15 |
| 5  | (Welfare Benefit Claims of Retired           |      |    |
| 6  | and Former Salaried and Executive Employees) |      |    |
| 7  |  |      |    |
| 8  | Motion for Objection to Claim (s)            | 75   | 19 |
| 9  | Number 28820, filed by Atul Shah             |      |    |
| 10 |  |      |    |
| 11 | Motion for Objection to Claims(s)            | 54   | 15 |
| 12 | Number 18839 and 70846 filed by              |      |    |
| 13 | Juanita Pickett                              |      |    |
| 14 |  |      |    |
| 15 | Motors Liquidation Company GUC Trust's       | 22   | 9  |
| 16 | Objection to Claim No. 4171                  |      |    |
| 17 | filed by James O. Bryant, Jr.                |      |    |
| 18 |  |      |    |
| 19 |  |      |    |
| 20 |  |      |    |
| 21 |  |      |    |
| 22 |  |      |    |
| 23 |  |      |    |
| 24 |  |      |    |
| 25 |  |      |    |

Page 87

1

C E R T I F I C A T I O N

2

I, Sheila G. Orms, certify that the foregoing is a correct transcript from the official electronic sound recording of the proceedings in the above-entitled matter.

5

6 Dated: May 17, 2012

7 Sheila G. Orms

Digitally signed by Shelia G. Orms
DN: cn=Shelia G. Orms, o=Veritext, ou,
email=digital@veritext.com, c=US
Date: 2012.05.17 16:33:28 -04'00'

8

9 Signature of Approved Transcriber

10

11

12

Veritext

13

200 Old Country Road

14

Suite 580

15

Mineola, NY 11501

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25